

List of Binders

The Society of Bookbinders is open to all who have an interest in books and related matters. Membership of the Society is no guarantee of expertise or standard of workmanship and the Society cannot endorse the work of binders. This list is compiled from those members who have expressed a willingness to take on work or make wider contacts. However, the Society would be pleased to hear of unsatisfactory transactions.

We suggest that you visit a binder if possible and ask to see some of his/her work in progress. The first work for an untried binder should not be a very valuable item. Discuss the work to be done and agree the project. If you are visiting, you may be able to choose materials. It is a good idea to write down what you decide, for both your sakes, noting any defects and missing pages/plates of the volume. It is very difficult to advise on the cost of bookbinding and repairs – each book presents its own problems – the binder should be able to give a good guide to cost and the time involved; if any major problems transpire, the binder should be expected to contact you.

The UK members of Society meet locally within Regions (East Anglia, East Midlands, London & South, North East, North Wales and North West, Scotland, Western, and West Midlands) so this list is sorted regionally. The list also includes some overseas members, and some collectors, conservators and suppliers of materials. Please choose a region from the map below.

Plan your visit to East Anglia, England: find out where to go and what to do in East Anglia with Rough Guides. Read about itineraries, activities, places to stay and travel essentials and get inspiration from the blog in the best guide to East Anglia. East Anglia, traditional region of eastern England, comprising the historic counties of Norfolk and Suffolk and, more loosely, Cambridgeshire and Essex. The traditional central town is the cathedral city of Norwich, which since 1961 has been the site of the University of East Anglia and its Centre.Â Encyclopaedia Britannica's editors oversee subject areas in which they have extensive knowledge, whether from years of experience gained by working on that content or via study for an advanced degree. See Article History. The East of England is the most easterly region of England and indeed of the whole United Kingdom. It lies broadly to the north of London, the Thames estuary and South East England, to the south of the Wash (the square shaped indentation in England's east coast) and to the east of the East Midlands. The most easterly parts of this region are known as "East Anglia", which at its strictest definition only includes Norfolk and Suffolk but often includes all or part Cambridgeshire and at its loosest
