VaNotes Notes on Processing:

In 1661 the General Assembly placed processing under the vestries, requiring owners of adjacent tracts of land to go in procession around the boundaries of each tract renewing the boundary landmarks wherever necessary.

In 1676 it was decreed that the vestry of each parish, upon the request of the surveyor of highways, collect a sufficient number of workman from the families of the parish to work the roads and repair the bridges when necessary.

- p.62 Governor Gooch issued patent to Augusta section of the Valley, Aug 12, 1736 to William Beverley and his associates for 118,491 acres, being known as Beverley Manor.
Patent for Beverley Manor included: (2 pages). Seems to say that patent is provisional upon at least 3 acres of every 50 being cultivated and improved within 3 years
- p.65 Governor directed a patent be made out authorizing Bordon to locate 500,000 acres on the Shenadoah or James River west of the Blue Ridge, This large grant extended form the southern line of Beverley Manor and embraced the whole upper part of Augusta and Rockbridge. Bordon’s grant was upon the sole condition that he would settle within ten years, 100 families upon said land. Bordon immediately returned to England and in 1737 returned with the required number of families, among whom were McDowells, Crawfords, McClures, Alexanders, Wallaces, Moores, and Mathews.

Fife Fife, Margaret Ewing, Ewing in Early America
p. 410, Ewing of Monroe Co, VA: James Ewing died there and named sons and daughters. Sons died and named brothers and sisters. Anne Kimball and I have spent much time and money and energy exploring all the Ewing information there, to no avail. This is one of the most baffling groups of Ewings thus far. James was there fairly early and his progeny were widespread. We have seen no biography, family information to identify whence they came.
